

Isle of Wight Junior Cycling Club

The Club is for young people to have fun on a bike as well as gain skills. It meets on the penultimate Sunday of each month, 13.30–15.30, at a variety of locations around the Island. Participants should be aged between 6-16 and are expected to bring their own bike and helmet. Each session costs £2 per child.

One of six qualified instructors leads each session, which consists of a variety of activities. These are designed to make participants more competent in bike handling skills, have competency on roads as well as learning basic maintenance.

Recent sessions have included; mountain biking, cycle riding demonstration at the Wolverton Show and skills games.

“Its all about having fun and becoming better at riding a bike”
